"I talked with one juror who felt the tenants 'The Rest Stop, Inc.' were the bad doers and that Gary Rottenburg, who represented himself as the owner, was not responsible for the actions of his tenants," Decker said. "We thought we had a pretty good case. You never know how a jury will decide."

Attorneys for the owner declined to comment on the case.

Local horse trailer tragedy spawns international debate

On Friday, international experts on horse behavior and animal transportation vehicles and many chief executive officers and/or the general counsels for most of the major national and international animal welfare and horse protection organizations attended a symposium hosted by the Michigan Humane Society at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

The two-tier trailer is also

Today, he lives the good life as the pet of our assistant director, Gary Tiscornia. But he won't go near any vehicle," she stated about the horse who was first called "Lucky" then "Houdini" and now "Canner."

City's future museum studied

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

Members of the Romulus Historical Society prepare for the future by looking at the past. Just last week, they stepped back in time on a special visit to the Historic Mill Race Village in Northville where they toured the 19th century "Washoak" schoolhouse.

Their purpose was obvious: to obtain new ideas for the restoration of the first and oldest one-room school in Romulus, the old 1839 District #1 Schoolhouse, acquired by the city of Romulus last spring. Society members readily accepted the responsibility of coordinating renovation of the 147 year-old building.

"Greenfield Village restored the old frame Scotch Settlement School. The Canton Historical Society renovated an old brick school into a museum. The City of Livonia has established a historic village called 'Greenmead,' which we toured last month," explained Pearl Varner, president of the Historical Society.

"We have to look and see what other people and communities are doing with their one-room schoolhouses and local museums. The exterior of the schoolhouse should be restored as authentically as possible. A museum atmosphere will exist inside and the numerous local artifacts accumulated since the society was founded in 1979 will be displayed," Varner noted.

“We are waiting for our next load of dirt. According to the handwritten documents dated before the building was erected, a wrought iron fence was proposed. We're going to look into that.”

There is one problem, Varner conceded. "No pictures of the schoolhouse have been found during its heyday in the 19th century, neither the inside nor outside. No school children with their teacher standing in front of the building, nothing! Somebody has to have a picture. Romulus originally had nine one-room schoolhouses. This is the only one left," Varner said.

Society members are especially asking long-time families of Romulus to search their attics for such photographs.

A Federal Block Grant of $10,000 was obtained by the city this spring and used to move the schoolhouse from its former downtown location on Goddard Road near the western curve to a curve on the opposite end of downtown, behind the post office. This was the fifth and hopefully, according to Varner, final relocation of the old schoolhouse since it was built.

At the present time, the society is accepting bids on vinyl siding for the school. The surrounding ground is being graded and leveled in preparation for next spring when they hope to finish landscaping.

"We are waiting for our next load of dirt. According to the handwritten documents dated before the building was erected, a wrought iron fence was proposed. We're going to look into that. We want this school to be as authentic as possible," she noted.

"Right now we need support both from people and their pocketbooks. We have received donations totalling almost $10,000. To project when the project will be complete is impossible without any funds. If someone donated $100,000 we might open in the spring. Any person, company or organization interested in local history and supporting the Romulus Schoolhouse, who donates $500 will have their name engraved on a plaque for placement in the museum and their generosity will be remembered by the community long after they've gone," said Varner.

The Historical Society is a non-profit organization whose tax exempt status was obtained by the certified accountant Frank Smythe of Wayne. Society members meet at 7 p.m. on the third Wednesday of each month in the public library on Wayne Road. To participate or for more information call 697-9628.

Jimmy Manetta of Romulus won first place in the Domino's Mid State Masters tournament this month. "This is a beautiful trophy," he said. ANP photo by Lothar E. Konietzko/chief photographer

Rookie defeats champion

A rookie bowler from Romulus defeated the defending champion and took first place in the Domino's Mid-State Masters tournament earlier this month. Jimmy Manetta of Biddle Road won not only a three-foot trophy but also a $1,200 cash prize.

"Congratulations to Jimmy Manetta from Romulus for his 188-168 victory over Doug Haberland from Bay City," said Al Bielawski, Domino's tournament director.

"This was Jimmy's first Mid-State tournament and to win $1,200 was a big thrill as well as a great accomplishment considering his high game was 206 with a 180 low game," he added.

Bielawski credits Jimmy with "consistency." "If there's one secret to winning in the association, consistency has to be at the top of the list," he emphasized.

More than 300 bowlers competed in the one game elimination tournament.

"I've bowled the last 10 years and I like it. I bowl on two-three leagues a week and my average is 198. It's a great sport," said a proud Jimmy Manetta.

Student compares career choices

High school seniors will soon be making important decisions regarding their future careers and colleges. Debbie Szente of Pennsylvania Road in Romulus is no exception after recently attending a week-long Management/Investment Career Exploration at Johnson and Wales College in Providence, R.I. R.I.

The program is designed to help high school students in their career decision-making and offers a variety of experiences for evaluating corporate operations and financial structure through lectures and field trips. Students visited local utilities, corporations and the stock exchange.

The high school seniors had the opportunity to develop personal investment strategies and conduct informational interviews with professionals and career-development counselors.

a private, non-profit, co-educational institution offering two and four year degree programs in business, food service, hospitality and teacher education. Based in Providence, R.I. Johnson and Wales also maintain a branch campus of its Culinary Arts Division in Charleston, SC.

How did Szente react to the intense corporate structure? "Now she's more interested in fashion retailing," noted her mother Nancy Pitel. "The program was really good for her. She met many people from around the country. Now she knows what she doesn't want to do."

New principal named

"My goal is to really develop parental involvement," said Bill Smith, the former director of Romulus Adult and Community Education for 14 years and recently appointed principal of Barth Elementary School, a position vacated when Eugene Barr retired in June.

Smith inherits a school building with nearly 400 students located in southwest Romulus.

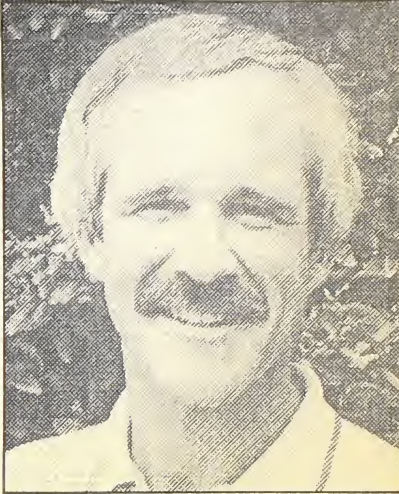

"Although it was difficult to leave a job that I enjoyed, I felt the administrative experience gained would be most beneficial. This should be a real challenge," he stressed.

"Because Barth is geographically isolated from the neighborhoods it serves, special effort is necessary to develop community involvement. Bill Smith has excellent community relation skills. He should enhance the pride residents have in Barth Elementary," said Dr. William Bedell, school superintendent.

Smith received his bachelor's degree from Albion College in 1967 where he played football and tennis all four years. He earned a masters degree in educational administration from Eastern Michigan University and the Mott Foundation in Flint in 1970. He was only one of 72 educators selected nationwide for the Mott training program that year.

In 1972, he was honored by

the Romulus Jaycees as the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year." He is a member of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce and editor of the school/community newspaper entitled, "Your School in Perspective."

category for columns, but all weekly papers throughout the state compete on the same basis for this award.

Staff writer Joan Dyer and News Editor Ray Day were primarily responsible for the writing and layout of the Belleville Centennial Edition which chronicled the growth of the newspaper there during the 100 years of publication. "Joan Dyer and Ray Day are two of the finest newspeople any publication will ever have the honor of employing," commented Susan Willett, executive editor. "Joan is an experienced journalist who can only be described as the epitome of professional. Her understanding of the differences in news coverage and community service necessary to the success of a weekly paper make her a consummate journalist. I cannot say enough about her contributions to Associated and the pleasure I feel in working with her," Willett said.

Willett also had high praise for Day, citing him as one of the future "stars" of the newspaper business. "Ray is just beginning his career, and is already more professional and experienced than most. There is no limit to his future in this business - he has the ability, the talent and the genuine appreciation of his profession to succeed at the uppermost levels of journalism. I'm sure that someday, we'll be bragging that we knew this young man when," she said. "Sincerely, these awards must be credited to the people who did the most to create the product on which we were judged, and in this case, that is Joan and Ray."

Willett also gave high credit for the special section award to Eagle Graphics Manager Carmelidia Clark for her input into the design of the work, and to the advertising staff members who offered the opportunity to become involved to local merchants and business people. "This particular award really belongs to the staff here, all of them. We really are a family and we all worked together on this one. There isn't one of us who doesn't deserve to be very proud of our achievement," the editor said.

The first place editorials and the first place editorial page award are one of the most coveted by newspaper professionals. Strict criteria for judging are imposed and careful scrutiny was given to all the entries. The winning editorials were authored by Willett.

Congratulations are in order

Thank you.

Small words which do not seem to adequately express the feeling of pride, gratitude and worth that is nearly palpable in the offices of Associated Newspapers since last week.

It was at that time that we were notified by the Michigan Press Association that we had been awarded two first place honors, a second place award and an honorable mention in the annual contest the group sponsors to recognize achievement in our field.

We whooped, smiled, laughed, cheered and patted ourselves on the back, excited and thrilled with our accomplishments. It has been some time since our newspapers have been so honored. While publisher, David Willett, was chosen as the first-place columnist in the state in weekly papers last year, our news product had not been chosen by our peers as superior in some time.

But during the past year or so, our whole philosophy, look and style has changed. We now strive to provide more local news than any paper in the state. We switch our front pages and the page three in each city in an effort to give our readers more of what they tell us they want: local news.

That isn't easy...and it isn't cheap. We have the privilege now at Associated Newspapers of working with a publisher who really understands the importance of the editorial product that we produce. He has committed himself and us to the best, and he has made it clear that he intends to have nothing less.

He is never satisfied with us, and that's good. It's good for us and it certainly is good for you. There was a time when he was much too busy keeping the business end running smoothly to pay a great deal of attention to the product. Those days are in the past, however, and not a week goes by that he doesn't offer his suggestions on making the papers better, changing stories, altering leads, providing more switch pages inside to give even more room to local news.

While we are all aware of the weaknesses we still have, and we freely admit we have them, his commitment to us and to you are responsible for the awards we have chronicled on our front pages this week. Oh, we're proud of them, and proud of ourselves, but most of all, we're proud of you.

Because, ultimately, you are the benchmark of our success. We strive every week to do better and better, because each week, you judge us. You judge every story, every layout, every photo. We hear from some of you who tell us exactly where you feel we have gone awry...and once in a very great while, we hear from one of you who is pleased with what we've done.

And while the Michigan Press Association and the Kansas Press Association members who judged the contest, claim we have the best editorial writing in the state, and provide you with the best editorial pages in the state, we want you to agree with them. They are professionals, with years and years of experience and education in the profession of journalism. They are men and women who strive, daily and weekly, to do what we do here. And quite frankly, we hear we impressed their socks off.

But we want you to know that we are the best. We also want you to know that we only got that way because of you. We want you to take the same pride in this newspaper which serves your community that we do.

We're proud of ourselves, and we're proud of you. There is an axiom newspaper professionals bandy about, usually at meetings of their peers: "A community gets the newspaper it deserves."

Our hat is off to you.

Country roads, covered wagons and crack

"Return with me now to those exciting days of yesteryear..." was the lead-in to The Lone Ranger radio show that some of us old timers remember all too well. Recently I've taken to heart that old familiar phrase and find myself indulging in thought about all manner of things that take me back to yesteryear.

Last weekend Susan and I went on a mystery trip with sister and brother-in-law, Lynn and Tom Heath. They kept us in the dark until we had almost reached the object of our journey deep in Buckeye territory. That didn't bother me, however. No Sir, uh-uh. As a publisher, I'm used to being in the dark.

After many miles, which seemed like many moons, our little excursion had led us to the Sauder Farm and Craft Village in Archbold, O-HI-O, as Uncle Tom says. Of course, Uncle Tom is also the guy who billed this as a brunch and cautioned us not to eat breakfast before starting out. By the time we arrived at their Manchester country farmhouse, endured a couple of my side trips through Adrian, and after Tom successfully lead us through a maze of country roads on a detour—we arrived at the restaurant...just in time for dinner.

Sauders is, to be sure, worth the trip—and even the wait at the Barn restaurant. Their quaint collection of the ol' crafts is housed and displayed in living exhibits where costumed craftsmen ply trades which have long since disappeared from our way of life.

We watched and listened as the coopersmith told us about his trade, as the glass blower worked his molten magic creating beauty in glass. We saw the broom maker weave his straw on a stick, the printer setting hot metal and handset type, and so it went; the cabinetmaker, the blacksmith, and others. Each brought back to life the trades and livelihood of our forefathers.

As we wandered through the village, watched the animals and meandered through the old period houses, I thought about where we as Americans have been and where we're going. We were at one time, a nation of hard-working immigrants who tendered our skills in exchange for goods, services or currency in order to survive.

Our ancestors dreamed of a strong America. They took pride in their families and prayed for a better tomorrow, if not for themselves, then for their children.

As Tom and I stared at the covered wagon and then climbed up to peer inside, I thought of the settlers crossing the rugged landscape with their families in search of a better existence.

For some strange reason my mind raced back to the television special I had seen not too long ago about illegal drugs today in America. In this special report viewers saw police storm into an apartment to break up a drug operation. As the camera rolled showing a woman being handcuffed and arrested, a small boy cried and begged police not to take away his "mama". His pleas were in vain. Before the probing lens, drug pushers approached a reporter and freely offered him "drugs and women."

Citizens interviewed on the street said that drug use and trafficking couldn't be stopped. "It's the American way," one young man said. Police are frustrated, dealers and users are brazen and defiant. America is a different place today. In their darkest thoughts our forebearers could not have envisioned the hold drugs have taken on our people. . .their people.

Immigrants today don't cross the country in search of gold or land for a better life...today many sell crack, grass, PCP or other manner of deadly poison. Do the drug users and pushers concern themselves with the future of this nation and its children? They worry only of today. In their world there is not apt to be a tomorrow, for themselves or the nation they are destroying from within.

Apathy question

To the Editor:

"They stand silent now waiting for the fate to which they have been sentenced to be carried out. Countless numbers of people speed past them along Michigan Avenue and Merriam Road totally oblivious of their silent pleas to be heard on last time.

But perhaps they are not actually standing silent but are being overcome by the boisterous world beyond the mental fence that encompasses them. For the Wayne County Infirmary, Psychiatric and General Hospital Complexes, better known as Eloise, echoes throughout the 902 acres in its pssession' with voices of the past. . .every corridor and every room holds stories that must remain silent forever."

These are the words that were written by an idelaistic young journalist for her school paper, "The hi Lite", in her senior year at Wayne Memorial. This girl was ready to solve any world problem, or so she thought. But life places many demands on a person and although she may have heard the cries of Eloise she also is guilty of ignoring them.

I face her in the mirror every morning and therefore must live with the accusations that cry out from the piles of rubble saying, "If you really heard me and cared why did you turn your back on me after you turned your story in?"

This may seem ridiculous and trivial but there is more at issue here then one person's apathy toward something for which she felt strongly. The buildings are gone and tears will never bring them back.

The issue here is the many other things in our lives we willing to watch be altered for the sake of ease. I walked through Eloise, touched her walls, held pieces of an old shirt with speckles of blood on it, and peered out through rusty iron bars at the courtyard that had been gazed upon by thousands of troubled men and women, but yet for the sake of convenience, I settled for a byline on an article which I hoped would spur others to speak out and save the buildings which I felt were so valuable.

Those walls fell many months ago but everyday values, beliefs, dreams, and morals which we hold in our hearts are also being changed as decisions are made in the Federal government, as well as in the local governments in a society which prides itself on being a representative government.

Do the words "democratic" and "representative" comfort us to the point of apathy? Do they comfort us so much in fact that we take our right to vote for granted and resign ourselves to a life of total quietism regarding our world? The walls of Eloise stood silently waiting for the fate to which they had been sentenced to be carried out.

They had no choice, we do.

Policeman criticized

To the Editor:

I am appalled at the efforts of the Westland detective bureau! One officer in particular.

He has made it a personal vendetta, to persecute a 17-year-old boy.

I personally know a few police officers from Westland, grew up with them. Lived here all my life. To watch their good names go downhill because of a pitiful person who has set himself up as judge and jury is disgusting.!

He also has intimidated the family of this boy! The boy is not completey innocent, but is not a hard-core criminal.

I've known the family for 25 years. They do not deserve this. Something should be done here.

Ballons get lift

To The Editor:

I have recently become aware that certain Canton Township Officials are re-evaluating their granting of permission for the "Balloon Festival" to be held in their community.

I live in Canton. My office is in Plymouth. I am a two-towner.

In my opinion, the balloon festival is the most class event now being held on Canton turf. It is somewhat more glamorous than the Cow Chip Fling.

The long-range benefits to Canton being blessed as the locale for the balloon festival are immeasurable. Minus this event, most Michiganders are of the opinion that Canton is either in Ohio or China.

The $3,000 cost to help bring Canton out of oblivion is a pittance, regardless who else might get some lateral benefits.

Plymouth, I'm sure, would not look askance at being selected as the site for the 1988 Olympics out of concern for the lateral benefits to NBC.

Canton should do it! Canton needs it!

Gregory Donovan
Canton

Editor's note: Since this letter was sent, the Canton balloon festival has again landed in Canton. However, we support Donovan's beliefs that Canton needs this event.

the local news in brief

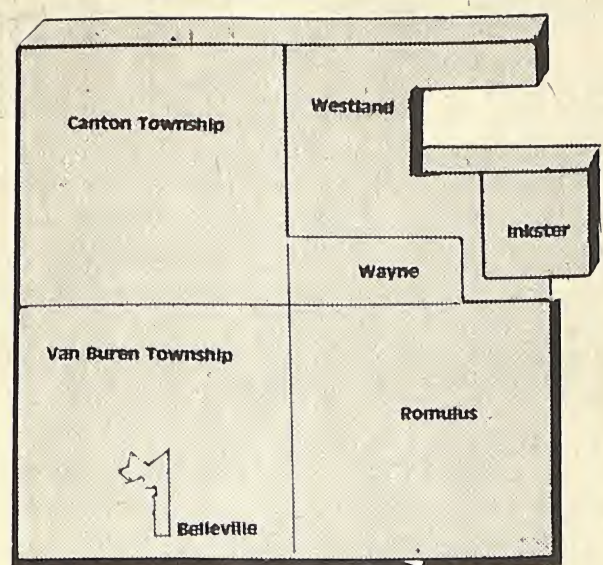

Schools celebrate 25th

WAYNE — The 25th anniversary kickoff for the Wayne County Intermediate School District is scheduled for Oct. 13 through 17 at the Education Center and Annex, 33500 Van Born Road.

Highlighted during the week will be Special Olympics, an international fashion show and the 1986 Student Writing Competition winners.

Public Act 190 created intermediate school districts in Michigan in 1962, replacing the county Office of Education. Wayne County schools are served by the WCISD through many programs, including drug abuse reduction, youth employment, educational leadership seminars, occupational adult education, legislative and production service and other projects.

The week will culminate from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 17 at Wayne Memorial High School, 3001 Fourth Street, Wayne. A 500-balloon launch will start the opening ceremonies for the 350 participants, and a marching band will play before teams in the WCIDS Special Olympics are assigned their colors.

Those wanting more information or help may contact First Step at 525-2230.

Groundwater cleanup set

WAYNE — Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack (D-Wayne) announced last week that members of the county Board of Commissioners have approved a $47,152 proposed state grant for the county Health Department to finance a groundwater contamination program.

The Groundwater Compliance Program will ensure that facilities which discharge or store hazardous chemicals must have either a permit or Pollution Increment Prevention Plan, Mack said.

"I have a historical interest in this issue because of my involvement in trying to stop the spread of landfills in western Wayne County," Mack said. "Landfills represent a major potential contamination of our groundwater. We can't clean up the groundwater if it is damaged."

Awareness week planned

WESTLAND — The week of Oct. 6 through 12 has been designated as Domestic Violence Awareness Week by the state Legislature, and the First Step Western Wayne County Project on Domestic Assault plans to commemorate the event.

Planned for the Westland-based shelter and crisis center are a film series and balloon lift-off.

The film series — which addresses violence on children, the community response to family violence and other information — is being shown from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 7 at First Step, 8381 Farmington Road, Westland.

The balloon lift off will begin at noon.

Teeth get free help

WAYNE — Up to 2,000 school-age children in Wayne County will be able to receive free dental sealant treatments due to a special pilot program, Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack (D-Wayne) announced last week.

The new program, funded by a $25,426 state grant, will enable dentists to identify teeth which require sealant and hygienists and/or dentists to perform the sealing treatment.

The sealing program will be conducted in a sample of Wayne County schools as a trial run to see if it can be expanded, Mack said. It is tentatively scheduled to start in January, 1987, and run through June, 1988.

Slaying hearing on hold

WAYNE — A hearing for the 15-year-old Westland youth charged in the stabbing death of 15-year-old David Linder of Wayne has again been adjourned.

Wayne police said Monday that the hearing, originally scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday, Sept. 26, has been delayed until 9 a.m. Oct. 10 due to a change in lawyers for the defense.

The youth has been charged with Murder II in the Sept. 10 slaying of Linder during a knife fight behind Wayne Memorial High School.

Voter registration deadline nears

According to Richard H. Austin, Secretary of State for Michigan, voter registration is up, with 87 percent of voting aged residents registered. This is because of the Secretary of State branch office Voter Registration Program. Under the program, more than six million residents have registered to vote during a 10 year period.

"We have a higher percentage of voters than any other major industrial state," Austin said.

However high voter registration may be, statistically speaking, voter turnout continues to be drastically lower.

Austin noted that almost 855,000 adults have not registered to vote. "Those who have not done so in order to avoid jury duty should know that the voter registration lists will no longer be used to select jurors," he said. "Beginning in 1987, these lists will be drawn from Michigan driver's license or personal identification card files."

The last day to register to vote in the Nov. 3 election is Monday, Oct. 6. In order to vote in Michigan, one must be a U.S. citizen, reside in the city or township for at least 30 days before the election and be at least 18 years of age. "You don't have to be 18 to register," said

Austin, "as long as the 17-year-old will be 18 by election day."

The trends in Detroit may also appear in the local communities. In Detroit, a high percentage of older residents, those from age 55 to as old as 90 make up the largest percentage of frequent voters. In some areas of the city, the old-young voting ratio is as much as 10 to one. Most of these older voters are using the absentee ballot, a system in which the ballot is sent to the voter, who casts his vote and sends the ballot back to the respective clerk's office or local secretary of state office.

At a time when we are looking back at the beginnings of our state, several new agricultural facilities are promising great things for the future of Michigan.

Organizers of the state Sesquicentennial celebration have identified about 400 farms in Michigan that have been farmed continuously for at least 150 years. Some of these farms are run by descendants of the original owners. In the face of a declining farm economy, many family farms are experiencing very hard times. The state is trying to make it easier for the family farmers and other agricultural interests to thrive in Michigan.

In order to make Michigan farms as productive as they can be, the state has provided $139 million in emergency loans to our financially pressed farmers. This farm loan program, the second largest in the nation, has helped many families through hard times and will help assure the continuation of their agricultural operations.

We can look back with pride on our long tradition of agricultural productivity in Michigan. And through education and research at our state universities, local and international commercial ventures and continued state support of family farms, we look forward to even more expansion in the future.

ing, motivating and uplifting. Much of what we see today is depressing and demoralizing. Perhaps the reason I enjoy returning in my minds eye to yesterday is because it helps me to reaffirm the things I believe in and the things I do not believe. Returning to those exciting days of yesteryear helps me to search and I hope find what is right with America and humanity and what is wrong.

I guess I'm like a baseball player who goes back to basics each spring in order to establish what is right or wrong with his skills.

When we feel uncertain about our values, principles, mores and direction...perhaps it is best to travel the country roads of our history in order to know what must be done in order to steer our course through the perils that lie on the seas of tomorrow.

See you next week

P.S: Thanks, Tom and Lynn. Your mystery trip to yesterday has helped to take away some of the mystery of tomorrow.

Resident slices up red tape

By RAY DAY
ANP News Editor

When Jane Wilczewski went to admit her 83-year-old father in a nursing home recently, she learned a lot about the American system of bureaucratic government. So much, in fact, that Wilczewski has researched the topic in hopes that others may benefit.

"There is a lot of bureaucracy when you go to place people in a group home. You need to find about about Medicaid, Medicare, co-pay insurance and a lot more," said Wilczewski.

The Westland resident found a source of salvation in her search for information, however, from a little-known state advocacy group called the "Citizens for Better Government." Wilczewski learned about the group through a county social worker and, in looking back, is now counting her blessings for having done so.

"Did you know that money designated in a will does not superseded the cost of a nursing facility? Did you know that a house and car are exempt when costs are incurred for a patient in a nursing facility?" Wilczewski questioned. "I knew nothing about finding a suitable nursing home that fit the needs of my father as he was leaving the hospital."

Even after her two-month search for information was ended, Wilczewski was still bombarded with queries from neighbors and friends who faced a dilemma with nursing homes similar to her own. At first, Wilczewski began to mimeograph copies of her research findings and to distribute them. After "I grew tired of making copies for everyone," Wilczewski decided to attack the nursing-home red tape by pouring time- and money-saving information into every avenue she could find.

Here are a few of the answers to commonly-asked questions Wilczewski found in her research.

What exactly does a nursing facility provide?

A nursing home provides supervision and nursing care to people suffering or recovering from illness, injury or infirmity. Most residents of nursing (See NURSING HOMES, page B-2)

Leader dog trainers are dedicated souls

By RAY DAY
ANP News Editor

About $2,000 of Michelle VeuCasovic's wages goes to the dogs each year. But she's not complaining.

VeuCasovic is the area leader of the Leader Dogs of the Blind program, sponsored by the Michigan 4-H chapter in Wayne. Aides to the Leader Dog School for the Blind in Rochester, the members of the local program raise future leader dogs from puppies to adults while instilling a few obedience skills in the dogs, skills that will someday enable the pups to serve as the eyes of many blind residents in the Metro Detroit area.

"I had been in the 4-H dog program with the shows and training before I got involved with the leader dog program," VeuCasovic said of her start as a leader dog trainer. "Because of the other 4-H dog program, I kind of just got involved with the leader dogs, and now I'm running the leader dog project."

Leader dog families are a special breed, VeuCasovic said, as they must agree to raise a puppy from the time it is 7 weeks old to age 1 1/2. Then, some 18 months and $2,500 later, the family must let go of the dog and release the grip of love and affection and return the dog to the Leader Dog School for the Blind for additional training.

Currently, about five families in the area have agreed to raise leader dog puppies and work with the canines in dog obedience and physical growth. However, VeuCasovic said, the demand for leader dogs in the area far exceeds the supply of trainers.

Families interested in becoming leader dog families must first submit an application to the 4-H or Leader Dog School. And even though all applicants are screened and carefully made aware of the details and involvement required in the program, not all families pass the test of being a leader dog trainer.

"Before I even hand out an application, I go out and meet the family and see how they feel about it," VeuCasovic said of the initial screening. "These people have to be able to raise the dog from the time they are a pup and then accept the fact that it will be leaving."

After passing the "screening test," leader dog families are assigned a particular puppy. Most dogs are labrador retriever, German shepherds or golden retrievers, VeuCasovic said. And although the families can't pick the breed of the dog, they are able to specify what sex is desired and to choose a name for the animal.

Naming the dog is perhaps one of the first most important tasks, according to VeuCasovic. "Fido" and "Rover" are perhaps nice names for Hollywood, but as far as leader dogs go, these names won't do, VeuCasovic said.

"The shorter names are simpler for the dog. Names like Torrey, Max and Levi are good," VeuCasovic explained. "Names with a high-pitch ending are best."

With the choosing of a name out of the way, leader dog trainers are then faced with the responsibility of exposing the dog to the public. Grocery stores, shopping centers, heavy-traffic roadways all make great places for the dog to get used to people, VeuCasovic said, people with whom he will deal for the rest of his life.

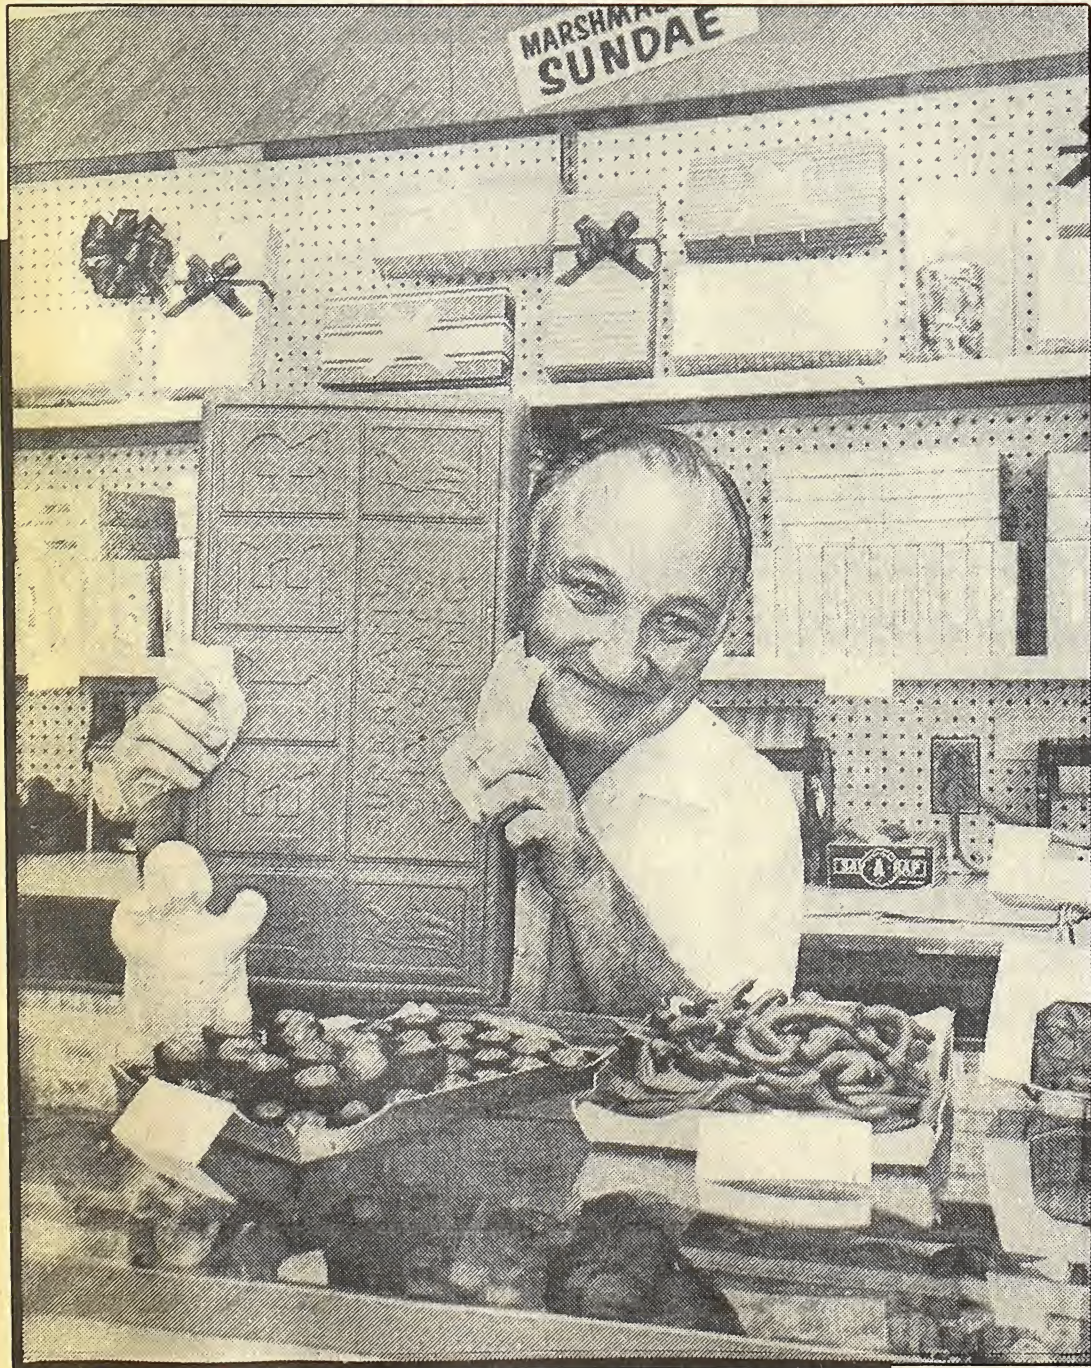

But training isn't as simple as finding a name and walking through shopping centers, VeuCasovic continued. All leader dogs must be trained early on to sit, come and stay. Advanced training includes lessons in how to sit in the car, to stop at roadside curbs, lie at the foot of the bed and go to the bathroom in just one spot outdoors.

"We teach the dog basic obedience skills. I go to the individual homes to work with the leaders and we have a monthly group outing so that everyone can help one another with their dogs," VeuCasovic said of the training. "Basically, we want a dog that will do everything and won't do anything wrong."

Candy maker has chocolate 'veins'

By RAY DAY
ANP News Editor

Evans Corden and his friends are looking for seven unsung heroes whom they can salute this Sweetest Day.

The seven people don't have to be macho, sex idols or the pinnacle of every person's envy, Corden said. However, they do have to be people who, in some way, make life better for others through their jobs, as volunteers or maybe just as special friends.

Corden is the owner of Corden's Candy Carrousel on Michigan Avenue in Inkster, known to many as one of the founders of the real candy-making magic. Corden has joined other candy retailers in the metro Detroit area this year in the "Salute Someone Special" awards to celebrate Sweetest Day, Saturday, Oct. 18.

Chaired by John M. Sanders of the Sanders Company, the Sweetest Day Committee consists of 19 chocolate retailers who are accepting "Salute Someone Special" nominations now through Wednesday, Oct. 8. But even more important than their role as judges in the contest, the committee members are working toward bringing gifts and goodies to the homes of many area orphans and needy residents throughout the year.

ANP: What is this Sweetest Day Committee and how did it all start?

CORDEN: All of the candy people in the area are on the Sweetest Day Committee each year to try to focus on people

Evans A. Corden
Age: 59
Residence: Dearborn Heights
Hobbies: Making clocks
Family: Four sons and a wife.
Quote: "I enjoy my work and I just take life as I find it. I never try to change things, the way things come about I just come to accept them. I just keep on cookin'. I just keep on making candy!"

promote the good will of candy giving. This is how it all started in Cleveland more than 60 years ago with orphans and children in the hospitals. The candy people got together to bring happiness and joy into their lives. They distributed candy and other small gifts as a token that somebody cared about them.

ANP: How is the committee organized?

CORDEN: Each major city has a committee. We have been members of the Detroit committee for many years. Our main function is to promote the day itself. We want the people to become aware of us. We don't so much give away money anymore, but we do give gifts and candy to the orphans.

ANP: How popular is Sweetest Day in terms of sales?

CORDEN: It's more popular here in the mid-West than any other section of the country. It's just the idea of buying a box of chocolates for the holiday, it's just the idea of giving the gift. Easter is the busiest time for us, then Christmas, then Valentines, then Sweetest Day and then Mother's Day. So it's about fourth, but it's building now.

ANP: Why do people give chocolate as gifts?

CORDEN: I think it's good will and remembrance to show your affection and thoughtfulness. This holiday is designated as Sweetest Day and what better sweets are there than candy?

ANP: How long have you been in the candy business?

CORDEN: My dad started this business in 1918. When he retired I took over the business. We were originally known as the Senate Sweet Shop in Detroit because we were next to the Senate Theater. We've been at this location now for more than 25 years. As soon as the theater closed we wanted to move out to the suburbs where all the people were going. We wanted to stay on Michigan Avenue and on an east-west highway, and we felt that a nucleus of our customers moved to this area.

ANP: Did you work in the business as a child?

CORDEN: Oh, yes. When I got out of school I would take the street car and bus and come down to work. I wasn't doing any real work. My dad would have me move boxes from one side of the shop to the other. And then just before we would go home, I would move them back just so I had something to do. I also sold penny candy and popcorn to the kids who came in the store. I never got a homes are elderly, but nursing homes do provide care for people of any age that are in need of 24-hour care.

Nursing homes

There are two levels of nursing home care — skilled care and basic. Some nursing homes are certified to provide skilled care only, others provide both levels of care. A facility providing both levels of care is a good choice. You never know when a person needing only basic care when entering could become eligible for skilled care. If you choose a facility that provides both, a transfer would not be needed later.

How do I determine which level of care my loved one needs?

If a patient is leaving the hospital, your doctor will help determine that. However, a skilled-care patient requires at least one of the following: introvenous feedings or medications, tube-feeding early colostomy care, treatment of severe bedsores, care of a super-pubic catheter, suctioning, physical or speech therapy and/or other procedures requiring the skills and judgment of a licensed health professional, such as a registered nurse, L.P.N. or physical therapist.

What else do I look for in a nursing facility?

First, ask to be given a tour of the entire home. Some facilities may show you the nicest sections. Are the patients stimulated by being taken to areas other than their own rooms? Are they up and dressed at a decent hour or is it 2 p.m.? Is there a nurse-call system by each bed?

One of the best ways to determine the quality of care your loved one will receive is to observe the residents and watch how the staff treats them. They should treat the residents with kindness and respect, while being attentive to their needs. Finally, you may want to ask the residents themselves how they like the home. Citizens for Better Care can provide you with a public health report and any citation that a home may have received.

How is payment provided for nursing home care?

Medicare can pay for up to 100 days of skilled nursing care in a nursing home. The first 20 days of skilled care are covered in full, then there is a co-payment for 21 days through 100 days. Medicare will pay for your nursing home care if you begin getting skilled care within 30 days of a hospital stay of three days or longer, if you are determined to need skilled and not basic care, and the nursing home has Medicare certification.

Medicaid will cover care for both basic and skilled patients for those people with limited income and assets. About 70 percent of Michigan nursing home residents rely on Medicaid to help pay for their care. If a person does not qualify for Medicare in a skilled nursing facility and has assets over $3,700, ($1,700 liquid assets plus $2,000 irrevocable burial funds that a resident is entitled to keep), he or she will become a private-pay resident until the funds deplete to less than $3,700.

My assets are designated in a will. Are they excluded from payment to a nursing facility?

This may surprise you, but money designated in a will does not supersede the cost of a nursing facility. If a resident dies before all of his money is used to pay nursing home costs, the remainder goes where it was designated in the will.

When the money is gone, will I have to sell the house and car?

No. A house and a car are exempt from the $3,700 limit.

Can I transfer the nursing home patient's funds into my own account since my name is on the account now?

No. That constitutes fraud.

Sotala — Wojie

Mary Ellen Sotala of Harroun Street, Wayne, and Chester Wojie Jr. of Hull Road, Belleville, were united in matrimony Sept. 6 at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Westland.

Approximately 110 guests attended the double-ring ceremony at the church which was decorated with white carnations arranged with blue ribbon bows and white pew bows. The Rev. Larry Rorem officiated the ceremony.

Music was provided by organist June Kukitonen and soloist Marianne Huff-Cach.

The bridal gown was a satin modified Queen-Anne style dress with long sleeves, full train, decorated with seeded pearls, sequins and applique lace.

Her veil featured a seeded pearl headband with fine net attached in three lengths.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations, spider mums, baby's breath and ivy in a cascade style.

Sheri A. Lucius, the sister of the bride, served as the maid of honor for the occasion while bridesmaids Lisa Monalo, Andrea Pacione, Lynn Adis and Pamela Brent also participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wojie, Jr.,

Best man was Dale Wojie, brother of the groom, and ushers were Edward Lucious, David Brendtke and Peter Monaco. Junior ushers were Eric and Cameron Wojie.

A reception attended by about 200 guests followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne.

The two will travel to Hawaii in the spring for a honeymoon after setting up their new home in Belleville.

The bride is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and the University of Michigan-Dearborn. She works at BBDO, an advertising agency in Southfield.

The groom is a graduate of Belleville High School and has completed courses at the Wayne County Community College. He works at the Ford Motor Company in Dearborn as the supervisor of manufacturing operations.

and Roger Avis. Ring bearer was Jerry Grassel, Jr., brother of the bride.

A reception attended by about 200 guests followed the ceremony at the Roostertail in Detroit. The two traveled to the Hawaiian Islands. They will make their new home in Novi Township when they return Oct. 1.

The groom is the son of Isa Barrows of Westland.

Dogs

After the 18-month training in individual homes, the dogs are returned to the Leader Dog School for the Blind in Rochester. Here the animals undergo further advanced training and are eventually matched with a blind person. The dog's function will then be to serve as the "eyes" for that blind person, eyes that will enable the victim of blindness to again lead a semi-normal life.

Dogs that do not pass this advanced training — about 10 percent of them — are offered back to the families who raised them as puppies. If the families are unable to take them back, a good home is guaranteed from the list of families on a two-year waiting list for the dogs.

In all, leader dog families spend about $2,500 raising the pups for 18 months and then letting go, VeuCasvic said. Many trainers acquire sponsorships from local pet shops and civic groups, and most write the remaining expenditures off as charitable donations.

But beyond the financial aspect, the program is kept alive by a few dedicated dog lovers. VeuCasvic continued, dog lovers who are helping a blind person break the plight of being home-bound and living a more active life.

"Many of our trainers come back year after year to get a new dog to train. Right now I'm on my second leader dog," VeuCasvic said. "We are doing something out there for other people, and we are doing something for ourselves."

To learn more about becoming a leader dog trainer, call the local 4-H offices at 721-6576.

Kephart — Barrows

Wrai Sushann Kephart of Garden City was united in marriage with David Allen Barrows of Farmington Hills Sept. 20 at the Mill Race Historical Village in Northville.

The Honorable Louis Hoping officiated the double-ring ceremony. Music was provided by Sherry and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey of Westland who sang vocals and performed instrumental music.

The bridal gown was from the Spusa Europa collection and featured a combination of white silk, beaded embroidery and a ruffled veil.

Barbara Meleski, a friend of the bride, served as maid of honor while bridesmaids included Neva Avis, Michelle Grassek and Heather Nebesio.

Best man was Keith Craig of Westland and ushers included Dean Larson, Mike Falardo

Leaders of Tomorrow sought

Twelve to 16-year olds are being sought to take part in service projects and leadership roles in the community and also in the YMCA programs, according to Program Director Mary Rose Cartwright.

Teens will travel to rallies in nearby states, attend activities within the state and have an opportunity to provide and expand their leadership potential.

Interested teens may contact the YMCA at 827 South Wayne Road in Westland or call 721-7044 for additional information.

Horoscope for October shows promise, frustrations

AIRES (March 21 - April 19)

The frustrations build due to indecision about exact career directions and relationships, especially around the third. Love is definitely on the physical magnetic level toward the middle of the month. You may find questions to mysteries answered by the end of this month. Beware of your unconscious fear of success. If you're doing all the right things, and still nothing seems to work, maybe deep down inside you don't really want those goals. Go deeper. A relationship from the past may be affecting your thoughts greatly right now. Your decision-making abilities are not good.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

The ideal direction will be to enhance your skills as they pertain to your work. If you cannot do this in a formal class situation, then you may want to do a self-study program of your own. Love blossoms and you may feel a bit of jealousy around the relationship, but try to be as fair as you can. And, as honest. Treat your partner as you would want them to treat you. No double standards, Taurus. The full moon around the 17th can make you ever so impulsive and you may want to reconsider just a little longer.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 21)

There may a change in relationships around you that just don't make any sense to you right now. The best perspective to take is to just let it be, and don't resist this now. To do anything else right now is fruitless. Try to direct your energy and attention toward the patterns you may be seeing here between now and the past. There is a repeat going on, somehow. Your ambition is very high, and so are your hopes. If this person is not a support person for you, the Universe may just be showing you that before you have to really count on them!

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)

Relationships are renewed, made comfortable again. Toward the end of the month, you will feel the pressures all being relieved, at least to the degree that you can stop tying yourself in knots. Legal situations are on your side, even if you can't see it that way right now. Don't be afraid to act. There are still some unexpected turns and twists in store, so remain as flexible as possible. But, don't fear the unexpected, because you'll find that it's really in your best interest.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)

This is a wonderful time to initiate a writing project, media, or promotion idea. The new moon gives you finesse, and magnetic attractiveness both in person, as well as your written word. Later this month is when you get the chance to give your side of any situation. Don't compete with your partner, or you could create something that turns very nasty. Be on your partner's team. Be careful before you speak at work, because you may have been given some false or incomplete information, and you'll wish you had kept quiet about it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)

This could be a time where you make some kind of value judgement - what is important and what is not - and it can be a very unpopular decision, but if it's your decision, then it is the right one for you. You aren't supposed to be pleasing everyone - only yourself. If you decide, based on what you feel is right, then that is all that matters. This decision will prove itself to be the very best thing toward the end of this month. You will be vindicated. Just because you care for someone, it doesn't mean that they aren't capable of making some mistakes that you don't want to deal with. They are human, after all. But, it may be a statement of their value system, and, yours.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 23)

Well, Libra, this is your month to make your solar new start, and this is the breath of fresh air that you've been wishing for! Your money should be good, as long as you're being honest, and as long as you aren't setting yourself up to be obviously deceived. Your intuition is strong, so you can avoid the swamp creatures. If you find that a slime devil has crept its way into your life, it will be easy for you to cast them out. Just do it! No discussion is necessary. Opportunities are still abundant in your work and even outside of work. If you feel you aren't growing fast enough, then now is your chance! Love is at least realistic, and romance can be there too.

paycheck. None of the members of the family got paid in those days. You just would do what you were told.

ANP: What is the secret to a successful candy business?

CORDEN: Good quality, very good quality. My dad always told me that. I thought about cutting the quality when I first took over the business in order to cut expenses instead of raising the price. My dad told me never to do that. He said to raise the price if you have to, but never cut quality.

ANP: Do you like candy yourself?

CORDEN: I eat about one-half pound of candy and an ice cream soda or banana split every day. I've got more chocolate in my veins than I have blood. I like the rum cherries and turtles the best.

ANP: Do you ever plan to retire?

CORDEN: I haven't really thought about it. I have four sons . . . none of them are interested in the candy business, but they don't want me to sell it or close it, and I have to give them a chocolate Easter basket each year! They said we've got to have the candy business in the family.

And as long as he can help it, that chocolate will continue flowing through Corden's veins, and hopefully at an even faster pace as business booms this Sweetest Day.

But no matter how busy the holiday gets, Corden promises to never forget the true meaning of Sweetest Day as he continues to promote gift giving and aid to the homeless and needy.

Incidentally, he continued, nominations for the "Salute Someone Special" awards are being accepted by calling 851-3993. Deadline is midnight Wednesday, Oct. 8. Winners, chosen by the committee, will be selected on length, magnitude and unselfishness of community service. Winners will receive candy, flowers and other small gifts.

Corden and his colleagues are gearing up for a barrage of entries, in hopes that recognition can be given to "those who have touched the lives of people everywhere and set an example for all of us."

Baker uses same stove for 50 years in the kitchen with hilda

berger

Shortly after the first gas line connected homes along Wayne Road during the late 1920s, 87-year-old Hilda Berger of Westland purchased her Magic Chef stove. Now, 52 years later, she still cooks, bakes and roasts an occasional bird in the antique oven.

She was born and raised on a farm in Garden City, the third oldest of 11 children. She learned to cook on a wood stove and later a kerosene stove. "Mother baked about seven loaves of bread every other day," she added.

"I've been cooking all my life," she stated matter-of-factly. "I cooked before I got married and I still cook since my husband, Albert, passed away in 1951. I like to cook. It's good enough for me," she said.

Berger has lived in the same house since she married and moved to Westland 62 years ago. "Our house was built on land from the family farm. It was started before the First World War. Albert took sick during the war and was hospitalized for four years after. We finally moved here in 1925. He was baker by trade who often baked homemade bread," she recalled.

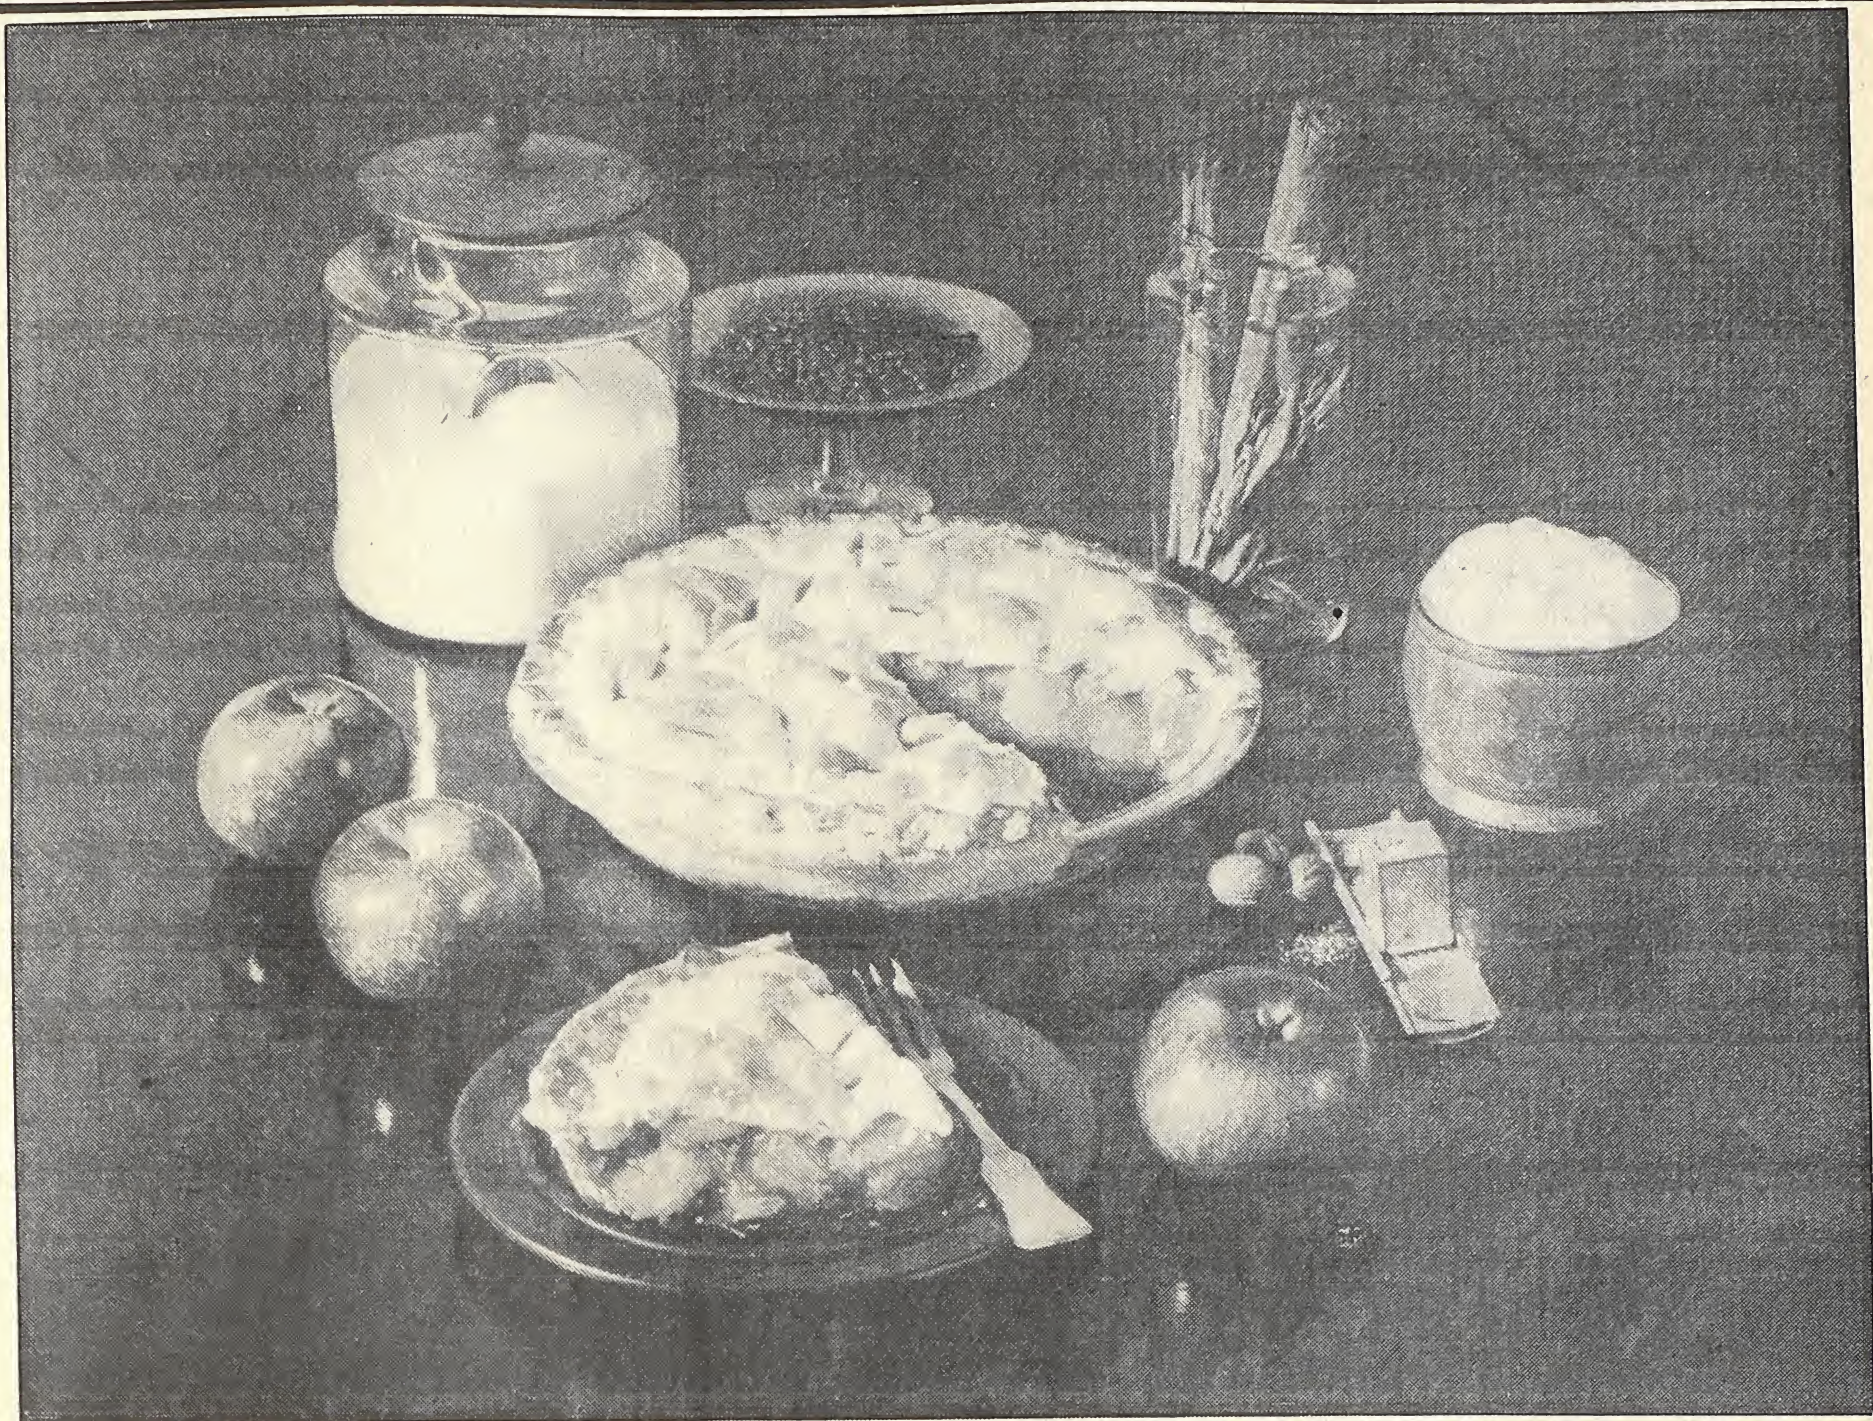

Between the two of them, warm fresh aromas continually filled the Berger kitchen. Here they raised their two children, Gordon and Greta. Today the Berger family boasts four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. All have sampled family favorites from the old Magic Chef which "most people don't realize is so old," she conceded.

"My daughter cooks most of the family dinners these days. And you know what, she's a better cook than me," said Berger who agreed that maybe her daughter had a good teacher. The following are two family favorite recipes. The first recipe came from a worn copy of an old Detroit Times cookbook dated 1924. The second recipe is a family favorite passed from generation to generation. "My mother made this peach cobbler when I was little girl," she recalled.

The "Prince of Wales" favorite dessert:
MARLBOROUGH PIE

Line a pie pan with pastry dough. Cover the bottom thickly with finely chopped raw apples. Take the yolks of 2 eggs and cream with a half cup of sugar (as for a sponge cake). Add 2 tablespoons of melted butter and cream again. Add 1 cup of milk. Pour the whole mixture over the apples in the pie crust. Lattice the top with strips of raw pastry dough. Bake for 35 minutes in a slow oven. Make meringue from the stiffly beaten whites of 2 eggs and 4 teaspoons of powdered sugar with a few chopped nuts added. Drop this mixture in spoonfuls over the top of the pie and brown slightly.

PEACH COBBLER
1 egg beaten
1/cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or Crisco
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 salt
In separate bowls: Mix sugar, melted butter and beaten egg.
Sift flour, salt and baking powder and add to first mixture.
The peach mixture: 8 peaches pared and sliced, (canned peaches or apples may be substituted)
1/teaspoon nutmeg
2/3 cup sugar
Blend together and place in a 5"x7" cake pan, glass or aluminium.
Pour the batter over the peaches
Place in a pre-heated oven at 375 degrees for 30 minutes.
When the peach mixture is cooled, it can be topped with whipped cream or the following sauce:
2 cups water
1/brown sugar
1 teaspoon butter
1 teaspoon cider vinegar
Bring ingredients to boil and thicken with a little corn starch.
The vinegar and sugar can be added to taste.
This recipe will serve 6-8 people.

These pie recipes are the spice of life

BY CHEF LARRY JANES
ANP Special Writer

I can remember the days when Soupy Sales was blasted right between the eyes with what seemed to be a never-ending stream of pies. Good sources from the local television station have informed me that those pies were made with a homemade crust and about 14 ounces of shaving cream. Occasionally, a true "cream pie" was substituted and that was the one old Soupy had the opportunity to lick.

A marvelous new aid for making pastry dough is the food processor. You simply place all the ingredients except water in the mixing compartment, turn on the machine and when the mix is crumbly, add water slowly and watch a pastry ball form in about 20 seconds or so. But beware master bakers, excessive "kneading" by the machine can produce crusts tougher than cheap beef roasts.

After the dough has been mixed by either processor, pastry cutter or by hand it should be chilled, then rolled into a 12-inch circle. Chilling should be for a minimum of one hour with securely wrapped pastry dough lasting for days in the fridge. The best rolling surfaces are marble and formica because they stay cold and prevent the fat from disintegrating. Flour the surface lightly and starting from the center, roll the dough gently with short strokes in all directions until it is approximately one-eighth of an inch thick (about the thickness of two quarters).

Then roll the dough over the rolling pin to facilitate lifting into the pan.

Never stretch the dough, but instead, press gently with your knuckle to fit the sides and the bottom of the pan. Leave about a one inch overhand, cutting off the excess with a sharp knife or scissors. Bake in the bottom third of the oven which has been preheated to about 400 degrees fahrenheit.

If a shell is to be filled before baking, it does not need to be pricked. In the case of an unfilled shell, prick the sides and bottom with a fork. To be sure the unfilled shell does not shrink during baking, place a sheet of waxed paper or parchment over the bottom of the dough and weigh it down with dry rice or beans.

After prebaking for 20 minutes, remove the paper and the weights and continue baking until brown (about 5 more minutes). Store the rice or beans in a jar as they are reusable, both for weights and for cooking. Bear in mind that for the flakiest pie crust all pastry shells must be waterproffed. This can be done by simply by "painting" slightly beaten egg whites over the crust before adding the filling.

Filled pastry shells do not freeze well because the crust can become soggy when defrosted. However, unfilled crusts freeze superbly. Bake several in aluminum pie tins and freeze. They then can be stacked, sealed in plastic and ready to go. Filling can also be tricky if you don't know what you're doing. Fruit fillings have always been popular, especially by using up overripe or bruised fruit no longer suitable for munching. Cut up the fruit and season it with sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice. Pile the fruit into the shell, usually one inch higher than the crust itself. Sprinkle with a streusel topping made from sugar, butter and flour, crumbled with your fingers. Bake the pie at 375 degrees for about 35 minutes with slightly firmer fruit requiring about five more minutes of cooking time.

So with the autumn season officially here, start peeling and whip up a few pies. One for the postman, one for the priest and maybe, if you have any left over, one for the always willing food writer. no Soupy Sales tricks, please.

Bon Appetit!

Roll out pie crust and cover filling with pastry. Turn under the overhand, press firmly to rim of dish using a fork. Cut 4 steam vents in top of crust. Bake about 40 minutes, serve warm.

Storms, North dampen day for Glenn, 9-7

Rockets regroup for homecoming

By KEITH DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Over the course of the last 20 years, the Westland John Glenn-North Farmington rivalry has seen many interesting facets, but last Friday night's encounter took on an even more interesting twist when Thorn, the ancient Norse God of thunder and lightning, struck Kionka Field to interrupt North's 9-7 victory over the Rockets.

North won a fierce defensive duel between these two Western Lakes rivals, but the real story of the game was the fierce defense Thorn put on the spectators who were forced to take cover for 75 minutes as tornado clouds swirled ominously overhead.

But when the rains ended and the clouds dispersed, North had claimed a key victory over Coach Chuck Gordon and his Rockets, handing them their first loss of the current campaign and ending their 3-game winning streak.

It was also the first regular season loss for the Westlanders since October, 1984. The loss evened up their Western Lakes record to 1-1 and dropped them into a second place tie with North in the Lakes Division.

“We have our backs to the wall. We’re going to find out what kind of team we have here.”

Over-all, the Rockets and Raiders both stand 3-1.

“It was a typical Glenn-North game. They’re close every year,” said Gordon who pointed out that “we took our chances but couldn’t get the job done.”

After North held Glenn to one yard, the Raiders took over and introduced Scott Seltzer to the rain-soaked crowd as he dashed nine yards on his first attempt. After quarterback Scott Simon was sacked for a five-yard loss, Seltzer took the handoff from Simon and scampered 44 yards to paydirt. Chad Henry added the point-after and North had established a 7-0 lead.

“We knew he (Seltzer) would be good,” Gordon later commented. “He’s the best back we have seen all year. He’s good at cutting. He made it rough on us.”

It looked dark for Glenn as the clouds that had just floated by, but the Rockets were determined to come back. “We got behind, but we kept our poise and that’s the sign of an excellent team,” Gordon noted. “The defense strengthened. The key was to get some kind of offense going. We made some adjustments at halftime but came up just short.”

Brian Wolf and Paul Beasley, coupled with Mike Ham-montree’s receptions, got the Rockets going and served notice to the Raiders they were not going to quit. But neither were the Raiders as Mike Sinanis played havoc with quarterback Steve Hawley and disrupted Glenn’s passing attack.

In the middle of the second quarter, Glenn got the ball to the 27-yard line where Tony Svaluto trotted out to attempt a 44-yard field goal. It had the distance but fell wide of the goal post.

In the second half, Glenn came out fired up as the defense smothered North and Seltzer, holding the 5-10, 165-pound tailback to only 40 yards in the last two quarters. But Seltzer still ended up with 202 yards, by far the most allowed

Romulus turns back Cooley in overtime

Neither the storm nor Detroit Cooley could stop Romulus last week.

Coach Norb Glover’s Eagles returned to the local gridiron on Sunday after their scheduled non-conference game with Cooley Friday night was postponed because of inclement weather.

And, in their first Sunday football game in more than a quarter of a century, the Eagles pulled out a 28-20 overtime victory over the Detroiters.

“It was an impressive win,” said Glover whose club is now 2-2 on the season. “Cooley is a well-coached, excellently disciplined team and we were fortunate to come away with the victory.”

(See ROMULUS, page 2-C)

Back to live action

After a brief consultation, Wayne Memorial head coach Chuck Howton returns to action his running back Darren Tatum who went on to score the Zebras’ first and only touchdown against visiting Fordson Friday night. Wayne failed to hang on to their slim lead and dropped a 20-7 decision to their Wolverine ‘A’ Conference rival.

Wayne succumbs to state-ranked Fordson

“We just couldn’t come up with the knock-out punch. We had them on the ropes, but let them get away.”

That’s how Coach Chuck Howton assessed Wayne Memorial’s 20-7 setback at the hands of state-ranked Dearborn Fordson Friday night. It was Wayne’s second consecutive Wolverine ‘A’ Conference loss. The Zebras had dropped their conference opener the previous week 14-0 to Lincoln Park.

For more than three quarters Wayne held back the Tractors who are ranked among the top teams in the state this season. Then, poor field position, untimely penalties and costly turnovers caught up to the hosts.

The Zebras struck first in the contest as Darren Tatum reached the end zone from five yards out with only little more than four minutes elapsed in the game. Doug Quartuccio’s reliable toe made the score 7-0. Tatum lugged the ball on all seven plays in the 40-yard drive. Blocking back, Shawn Howard and the offensive line of Jay Muncey, Ron Woods, Shane Bellenir, Larry Holloway, Tom Bishop, and Jason Waugh made the holes.

On their first offensive play after the ensuing kick-off, David King, the senior defensive tackle, recovered a Tractor fumble at their 32-yard line. However, the Zebras gave the ball right back on a pass interception.

The visitors from Dearborn were stymied on their next possession thanks to defensive plays by Wayne’s Fred Horne and Mike Mayes. A Fordson punt brought back to the Fordson 40 by Lewis Davis gave the Zebras the ball again. However, the Fordson defense held, and Quartuccio attempted a 40-yard field goal that fell short.

In the second stanza, the Fordson offense, featuring the wishbone formation, finally got on the board with a 15 play, 58-yard scoring drive. Fouad Zaban tallied the touchdown with an eight yard scamper with about three minutes remaining, Julio Desir, the Zebras junior linebacker, snuffed out the Fordson two-point conversion attempt. At the halftime intermission, the scoreboard showed Wayne 7, Fordson 6.

The defense dominated play in the third quarter. The Tractors did mount a drive that saw them get to the Zebra two-yard line where senior linebacker Mike Hines came up with some heroics and ended the Tractor threat with a fumble recovery.

With their backs almost in the end zone, the Zebra offense had to be careful and ultimately had to punt after three plays. Steve Warner’s punt was returned to the Zebra 35. Warner had another outstanding defensive game as he recorded 15 tackles.

Clinging to their one point margin, Wayne’s defensive (See WAYNE, page 2-C)

Romulus edges Cooley

Glover said that he hopes the victory "will begin to turn things around for our team. I saw a lot of good things, and I'm hoping that the momentum will carry over for this week's game with Ypsilanti."

Ypsilanti will feature a "father vs. son" program as Glover will see son, Dennis, in a Ypsilanti uniform. Dennis is a 5-9, 140-pound starting wide receiver for the Braves.

"Ypsi has an excellent tradition, and this year's team is carrying on that tradition," Glover said.

Quarterback Luther Shannon turned in his finest performance of the campaign to lead the Eagles past Cooley. He amassed 170-yards from his passing assault and also rushed for 60 yards. Shannon's 10-yard TD strike to Anthony Russell on the second play of the overtime proved to be the difference in this game. Russell also provided some heroics as he stretched to make the reception, keeping his feet in bounds while his body went out of the end zone.

"It was the prettiest catch I have seen by a high school player," Glover said.

Shannon came right back and went in for the two-point conversion on a "bootleg". He also picked off Cooley's second play pass to end the threat and the game.

Cooley struck paydirt first as the two teams exchanged first period touchdowns. The Detroiters got on the scoreboard on a 30-yard pass from Bell to

Johnson. The Eagles came right back and scored on a superb 76-yard pass-run play with Shannon finding Jason Williams free for the touchdown.

Romulus forged ahead on the last play of the initial half as Shannon and Williams again combined on a 10-yard scoring pass. Cooley waited until the third period to tie up the game and it was the same combination of Bell and Johnson who accomplished the feat. Late in the fourth quarter Russell struck again, this time returning a kickoff 86-yards into the end zone. Kevin Farris accounted for the two-point conversion, however, Cooley refused to quit and scored on a six-yard sweep and capped the touchdown with the successful conversion.

Alex Rogers, Romulus' outstanding linebacker, Ron Morris, a defensive end and freshman Ed Miller, who handles the defensive tackle slot stood out for the Eagles.

"Our defense will have their job cut out for them this week because Ypsilanti has two tremendous running backs," Glover noted. "If we can stop them, I feel our offense will get their share of points."

Detour ahead

Wide receiver Tony Robertson (24) finds his path blocked by determined Fordson defenders during Friday night's Wolverine 'A' Conference confrontation. Fordson managed to rally to a 20-7 victory over the hosts, handing the Zebras their second consecutive league setback. Wayne will take a 2-2 over-all record to Belleville Friday night where they hope to snap their losing streak at the expense of the winless Tigers. ANP photo by chief photographer Lothar E. Rockets (Continued from page 1-C) by a Rocket team in many years.

However, nothing keeps Glenn down as they finally scored late in the third quarter on a little daring-do. Hawley took the snap from center Joe Franchuk, flipped the pitch to "tailback" Clint Straub, who then looked downfield for Hammontree. Straub hurled a perfect spiral to Hammontree who raced untouched to the end zone. Svaluto's point-after made it 9-7, and now it was a real dogfight.

Glenn kept pushing North to the limit, once converting a fourth and one at midfield, and nearly duplicating the feat on a fourth-and-three at the 2:07 mark, but North dug in and stopped the Rockets.

"They always played great defense," said Gordon. "They did some things we weren't prepared for. It took us awhile to get things straightened out."

Glenn had one last chance to score as two last-ditch passing efforts fell short, with the game ending on a pass interception by North.

As the players shook hands following the game, each one of them knew that they had contributed to the legacy and lore of the Glenn-North rivalry.

Now it's time to prepare for "Homecoming", and that is scheduled for Friday night against a traditionally-tough Livonia Stevenson. It is a "must game" for the Rockets who need the victory in order to realistically challenge for the divisional title.

"We have our backs to the walls," Gordon admitted. "We are going to find out what kind of team we have here."

In the meantime, the Rocket Junior Varsity squad also dropped their first game of the season and the first in Coach Todd DeLuca's three-year tenure as head coach, the Rockets losing to North in a cliffhanger, 7-6. Glenn wasted Bryant Satterlee's outstanding offensive game. He rushed for 149 yards and a touchdown reception from Dale Yannick.

unit again denied the Tractors. Fred Horne again came up with the big defensive play, this time a quarterback sack that resulted in a 12-yard loss. The Fordson punt was downed at the host's six-yard line.

In the fourth quarter, after a Zebra punt, the Fordson squad marched to the Wayne 22 yard line. Facing a fourth down and three yards to go situation, the Tractors lined up for an apparent field goal attempt. However, a Zebra offside penalty gave the visitors a first down. The Dearborn squad took advantage of this opportunity and finally took the lead on Zaban's second touchdown of the evening. A two-point conversion run gave the Tractors a 14-7 lead with a little over five minutes remaining in the contest.

The Zebras tried desperately to knot the score. The Tractor's co-captain, Bassem Karkaba, smashed Wayne's remaining hopes with an interception and subsequent run back to the 32-yard stripe. From there, the Dearborn contingent methodically marched downfield and scored again, this time with only 35 seconds remaining.

Howton's forces will continue their conference battles on Friday as they travel to Belleville where they clash with the winless Tigers. The Zebras are still looking for their first conference victory of the year. They are 2-2 over-all on the season.

In the meantime, the Zebra junior varsity team re-

Stevenson nips Salem, 16-15

Statistics can be deceiving.

A case in point: Salem amassed 17 first downs to Livonia Stevenon's three, rushed for 274 yards and passed for an additional 84 for a total of 358 as compared to the Spartans' net three yards.

And guess who claimed the 16-15 Western Lakes Conference storm-delayed victory?

Salem?

Wrong. Stevenon.

Stevenon made the most of three costly Salem fumbles to hand Coach Tom Moshimer and the Rocks their third loss in four outings. The setback evened up Salem's league record at 1-1, and Stevenon remains the only undefeated club (2-0) in the division.

Delayed because of the torrential rains and lightning, the Friday night encounter between the two rivals resumed Saturday with 2:54 left in the first period. On the first play Saturday, Stevenon jolted Salem with a 18-yard pass that gave the Spartans a 6-0 lead. Salem came right back and tied the game early in the second quarter on Lenny Bowe's 64-yard run and, although Brian Storm missed the point-after, the game was tied at 6-all.

Not for long as the Spartans pulled off a double reverse after the ensuing kickoff that netted them the go-ahead TD. A 26-yard field goal provided the Spartans with the winning edge.

open for business

LOTS OF THIN-minded women called the Associated Newspapers offices last week wondering how they could become members of the "no-work, lose inches" method of body toning offered at Chris's California Concept in Canton Township. The spa is located at 8515 Lilley Road, in the Golden Gate shopping mall, across from the Metettal Airport. More information about the program is available by calling 459-1080.

SPEAKING OF THE Golden Gate shopping mall, The Indoor Gardening Center, 8539 Lilley in the Golden Gate center, is featured in the business profile this week. Interested gardeners may call 451-0797 for information.

"PLAN TO GET Out Alive" is the statewide safety theme being promoted next week by the McDonald's restaurants of Canton. Residents participating in the program are being encouraged to develop home evacuation procedures to practice during a state mock fire drill Wednesday, Oct. 8. Television and radio stations throughout Michigan have agreed to participate in the mock drill by carrying simultaneous alarm signals at 6 p.m. The McDonald's restaurant is offering escape brochures at no charge. The booklets outline fire safety information, plans for a home safety drill and a fire escape planning grid.

The Federal Reserve Board seems satisfied to let the economy find its own level of activity. With interest rates stable, and yields rising, this may cause increased economic activity. The Fed seems satisfied with the current position of interest rates and the market movement of yields. Business loans seem to be moving higher, as business managers must replace inventory.

For this week, interest rates will trade in a narrow range, with a slight upward bias. Gold and silver last week seem to have lost some followers.

For this week, I see short-term traders moving to the sell side. The erratic market of the action is not the kind of activity that builds confidence. Intermediate - and long-term traders seem less than aggressive buyers.

For this week, traders will put heavy downward selling pressure on the market. However, a strong secondary performance will add some stability and strength to the overall market. But the market still will be under heavy selling pressure for the week overall.

High tech green thumb

No soil needed

By RAY DAY
ANP News Editor

Despite the fact that most area residents will be hauling in their summer harvests and putting away their green thumbs for another season, Daniel Audett is just starting to lay the groundwork for his new garden in Canton Township.

And although that groundwork is expected to yield plump red tomatoes and juicy ripe cherries at the end of the season, this ground is slightly different from the typical soil and fertilizer mixture found in most suburban farm lands.

Audett is the owner of "The Indoor Gardening Center," located in the Golden Gate Shopping Center in Canton. A new concept in household gardening, the gardening center shelves aren't full of fertilizers and potting soil as one might first expect, but are well-stocked with nutrient water supplements, plastic plant beds, water tubes and artificial lighting fixtures.

"Our two main product lines are hydroponics and high-intensity lighting," Audett said of the business. "What we are trying to do is allow gardening all year long."

The hydroponics method of plant growing resembles a concept fresh out of Disney World's Epcot Center or a high tech science fiction movie. Within a bed of fluffed lava rocks, plants seedlings are put in place and are fed a steady flow of nutrient-rich water.

Two systems are currently available for indoor gardeners, Audett said. One is an "open air" method in which plants are supported by a "grow chamber" with no part of the root system being imbedded in any solid substance.

The other system allows the plants to be nestled within lava pebbles and "rock-wool" (fluffed lava rocks which resemble household insulation because they have been heated to 1600 degrees) in plastic storage bins with the plant roots growing in between the rock bed.

In both systems, the treated water is pumped through plastic tubing in the plant environment. This treatment may be done continually to provide very rapid plant growth or twice each day to cut one-half the time of growth of the traditional soil setting.

The water then flows back through plastic tubing into a holding reservoir where it will remain for about a two-month period before the indoor gardener must replace it with fresh water.

Artificial lighting is the second most important phase of indoor gardening, Audett said, and can many times be more helpful than natural sunlight. Some of the bulbs sold at the indoor gardening center have intensities which surpass even the amount of light given off by the sun at the equator, Audett explained.

But who needs the scientific aspect of it all? Most indoor gardeners are more concerned with the aspect of the concept which allows their green thumbs stay healthy all year long, Audett said.

"Originally, this concept came from Europe, and the reason is because they didn't have the type of farm land they needed," Audett explained. "This business is predominately in the west. I've been involved with it for about eight years and market research showed that there was an interest here, so we moved to Canton."

Along with a partner, Audett sells hydroponics systems for as low as $79 for the starter kit and up to $1,600 for the kit which includes oscillating sun lamps, carbon dioxide injections for speeding plant growth further and enough plastic basins and tubing to start a hardy indoor garden.

Even though he is optimistic that the hydroponics concept of gardening is sure to be a hit in the area with consumers able to garden year round and grow fruits and vegetables at less than half the time of traditional gardening, Audett doesn't think hydroponics will soon replace the traditional farmer.

But one thing is for sure, he added. As soon as the tomatoes growing in the storefront window are ripe enough for eating - about seven weeks in all - customers at the restaurant next to the Indoor Gardening Center will get a first-hand sampling of the newest craze in high technology each and every time they order a house salad.

College discusses mass transit

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) and Wayne County Community College (WCCC) have initiated a joint effort to discuss the feasibility of bus transportation for students in western Wayne County.

Both sides agree the proposal is in the very early planning stages but foresee some progress in the "not too distant future."

"We've discussed the matter with SEMTA and at this point are optimistic about reaching an agreement," said Tom Sullivan, dean of Education at WCCC on Haggarty Road in Van Buren Township.

SEMTA and WCCC are looking at two things, according to Sullivan: current bus routes from Detroit to the western suburbs and student schedules.

"It's a difficult scheduling task," said Bob Cambell, manager of scheduling with SEMTA. "There have to be enough students to justify the need. The initiation of this project is a team effort with SEMTA and WCCC," he added.

At the present time, SEMTA offers similar service with its 850 Park and Ride from Orchard Lake to the New Center area in Detroit. Small SEMTA buses do transport students from Oakland Community College and their campuses at Auburn Hills and Orchard Ridge. Advance reservations provide handicapped and elderly individuals with the service, Dial-A-Ride, also on these small buses.

"The Dial-A-Ride service actually picks up residents where they live. Any projected routes as those discussed with SEMTA would travel along major roads. The Western WCCC campus is somewhat isolated. That is a problem at this time," noted Cambell.

The western WCCC campus is six miles from the end of the nearest existing SEMTA bus route, the Michigan Avenue line, according to John Sajovec, SEMTA Director of Planning and Marketing.

"The biggest problem is adjusting class schedules with existing bus routes. What it would take to change the routes and who and where the riders will come from. Because student schedules change everyday and drivers schedules do not, the problem becomes very costly," noted Sajovec.

The short-term solution for bus service in western Wayne County would be to extend existing lines or add new routes using the small buses.

Budget problems at SEMTA have stabilized according to Sajovec. "Federal funds to SEMTA have been reduced by 50 percent since 1981. There were major service cuts but with improved efficiency we are on the road to recovery. Our long range plans have always included extended service in the western Wayne County region, the situation would be no problem with additional funding," he concluded.

At what age should my child first visit the dentist?

Most dentists recommend that a child's first visit to the dentist should be between the ages of 2½ years and 3½ years old. If your child's teeth show signs of pitting, or develop white, yellow or brown spots, which may be a sign of tooth decay, his first visit should be earlier.

Reagan receives Romulus welcome

The President of the United States stopped by Romulus last week — if only briefly — but not too many local residents turned out to welcome him.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas greeted the President as he stepped from his official Presidential plane "Air Force One."

Reagan's mission was to provide needed political support for fellow Republican and gubernatorial candidate, Lucas, at a $1,500 per plate fundraising luncheon at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

Although he was just passing through the city of Romulus, he drove on local roads past expanding businesses, new industries and existing homes. He experienced just a brief sampling of what the Romulus community is all about, as reflected in the city motto: "Citizens and industry working together."

Reagan and Lucas were surrounded by about as many secret service agents as local news media personnel. And although most in attendance were on company time, excitement intensified as his plane arrived right on schedule at 11:30 a.m.

Lucas walked up the stairs and upon reaching the top shook the President's hand. The two men were all smiles as they walked toward the presidential limousine. Before he stepped in, Reagan studied his audience and waved.

And though he couldn't have taken more than 10 steps on the ground, he was in Romulus, even if he didn't know it.

THE PERFECT PIE CRUST (Yields one 9-inch crust)

1½ cups instant flour (Wondra is BEST)
¼ cup chilled butter, cut into cubes
¼ cup chilled solid vegetable shortening (Crisco)
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup cold liquid (water, juice, liquor, etc.)

Blend the flour, salt butter and shortening until crumbly and pieces are the size of small peas. Add liquid and continue mixing until dough comes clean from the bowl and forms a ball. Wrap in plastic and refrigerate for 1 hour. Roll. Can be easily doubled for a two crust pie.

CRANBERRY APPLE PIE

4 tart apples, peeled, cored and sliced
½ cup water
1¾ cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ cups whole cranberries
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
3 tablespoons butter
1 recipe for double pastry

Combine apples and water in a saucepan. Cook, uncovered for 5 minutes or until apples are soft. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt and blend thoroughly into apples. Add cranberries, peel and butter and cook, uncovered until cranberries begin to pop, about 5 minutes. Roll out pie shell, spoon filling into the shell and top with lattice crust and bake for 20 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake until golden brown, about 25 minutes. Serve warm or at room temperature.

BROCCOLI CAULIFLOWER PIE (Serves 6-8)

1 double pie crust
1 pound broccoli, cut into flowerettes

1 pound cauliflower, cut into flowerettes
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced fine salt and pepper to taste
6 ounces swiss cheese, grated
6 ounces Asiago or Gruyere cheese, grated
1 egg, beaten

Heat oil in large skillet, add onion and sautee till soft. Add garlic, broccoli and cauliflower and sautee for 4 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cool. Roll out pastry and line the bottom of a deep pie pan with 1/2 the pastry. Chill for 30 minutes. Combine vegetables and cheeses and toss lightly. Spoon into crust. Roll out remaining pastry to cover the top. Trim and seal. Cut a hole in the center and brush with beaten egg. Bake until golden brown, about 1 hour in a 400 degree oven. Serve immediately.

Chef's secret: Any vegetable can be used and try different cheeses like fontinella, swiss and parmesan for exciting, different tastes!

Starsights

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)

You're still magnetic, and you still can carry a lot of influence. But, you may have learned a few lessons this last month, and you may have learned to channel that influence a little better and a little more positively through those experiences. You need a lot of space in your home this month, and others must respect your privacy. It isn't fair to them, however, if you don't let them know that you're sensitive to these "invasions." Give fair warning. Remember one last thing: Don't flirt unless you are serious as a tornado. (That's how it will be taken!)

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21 - Dec. 21)

Don't deceive friends or you will find yourself all alone. Even minor deceptions will be seen as an example of greater value systems, and others will reject you if they feel you aren't trustworthy. There is no justification because no one calls you on it. They will just observe and decide on what they see. Watch your words very carefully. Mars in your area of communications can draw some very strange energy to you. You're changing a lot, and it can be wonderful. It will be the energy you have been sending out, all returning to you, its source. Your home situation can improve, but watch your money. It's as dependable as you are.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)

You can hear some really good news this month if you are a team player at work. If you follow the rules by the book, expect the same rules to be applied to you, even during those times when you want to have a break. You must do this for others, to receive it. Double standards get blown out of the water this month. If you stay flexible your teammates will show their appreciation by supporting you in a new opportunity. If you don't, they will choose someone else for the opportunity. (Can't blame them!) Now, the next thing is whether the effects of this wonderful opportunity will be a positive or negative influence on your personal life. It is all a matter of your attitude, and the attitude of those who are supposed to be your support system.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You may be ready to start a new humanitarian, charitable or spiritual direction.

If education plays a part of this, the time is wonderful for it. Money opportunities are coming through for you, but it depends on how adventurous you are, and how much you want to risk on you. Someone at work may like you, but if you're their friend, you won't do anything to cause problems for them.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)

You will know that you are wanted this month, that's for sure! Be careful what you become involved in, however. If something is on the shady side, steer clear of it. You have a lot of potential in your love life, so don't waste this time on something that is less than absolutely wonderful. If you can't be proud of it, and show it to one and all, then it's not the right one. You may have to deal with more than one ultimatum this month. Don't be the one to issue them, if you can possibly negotiate. Ultimatums are decided long before the announcement is made. And, you won't like the outcome.

(Editor's note: Astrologist Rosemary Near will be a featured participant in the Pumpkin Festival Parade in South Lyons on Saturday.)

Vital Signs

At Annapolis Hospital, we know that vital signs are an important measure of progress, for a hospital as well as a patient. That's why at Annapolis, we're constantly monitoring our own vital signs in order to determine how we can help serve you better.

Right now, Annapolis is completing an addition which will house the hospital's new CT Scanner, a project designed to further improve diagnostic services. Future plans include extensive remodeling of the pediatric and obstetric units. These and other planned improvements, combined with medical and surgical advancements and new services such as adolescent substance abuse and occupational health programs, enable us to respond to all patient needs.

At Annapolis Hospital, we're dedicated to the progress of family health care. And that's a good sign for everyone.

New Grapefruit Super Pill 'II' Gives Faster Weight Loss

*Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.
No Dieting — Eat Normally*

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special) — Good news for people who want to lose weight. According to the results of a recent medical study, you can easily lose up to "14 pounds in 14 days" with an amazing, vastly improved "new version" of the world famous grapefruit 'super pill' diet called Super Pill II.

Best of all, the pills allow you to "continue to eat all of your favorite foods without changing your normal eating or exercising habits and still lose weight, starting immediately, until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire. "It's guaranteed!"

The new diet pills have been successfully clinically tested on groups of overweight people by a panel of doctors in Beverly Hills.

All Lost up to 14 lbs. in 14 Days

"Remarkably, ALL people in the Super Pill II test group showed dramatic weight loss over 14 days," stated Dr. Steve Sachs, who compiled and analyzed the data in the study. It also proved conclusively that the powerful new ingredients combined with the placebo effect will enable you to lose weight "over 3 times faster" with this new version compared to the previously popular and successful original version.

"Pills Do All the Work"

According to the clinical study, "Super Pill II itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO special exercise, NO hunger pangs, and NO messy fresh half grapefruit to eat at every meal." You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals.

Pills Contain ALL Daily Vitamins

No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy because Super Pill II is fortified with all (100%) of the U.S. Government USRDA recommended daily vitamin requirements.

Super Pill II is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public
